

Medicare Fee Cuts—

S t r e t c h i n g

Physicians to the Limit

The rising cost of delivering health care coupled with declining reimbursements is taking its toll on America's specialty doctors and their ability to provide quality care to patients.

Specialty physicians simply cannot bear another cut in Medicare reimbursement without having to make tough decisions that will affect Medicare beneficiaries' access to care.

Something's got to give.

Congress must stop the health care system from unraveling.

Prevent the cuts in physician Medicare fees scheduled for Jan. 1, 2004.

The Alliance of Specialty Medicine is composed of 13 national medical societies representing more than 160,000 specialty-care physicians. The Alliance's mission is to improve access to quality medical care for all Americans through the unified voice of specialty physicians promoting sound federal policy.
